Manchester plans for sobriety checkpoint

ShareThis

MANCHESTER - Police are setting up a sobriety checkpoint in the city the first weekend in February to catch drunken drivers.

The checkpoint, approved by a Hillsborough County Superior Court judge, will happen on Friday, Feb. 1, and Saturday, Feb. 2, in an undisclosed location in the city.

Get every last one of the burns off the roads! While they're at it, I'd love to see a checkpoint on Route 3 in Bedford heading toward Merrimack. I see all kinds of folks weaving along through here, heading from their pre-party to the, umm, "Gentleman's" club, going 15 mph below the speed limit like they're fooling anyone.
